INTRODUCTION

Let's face it. Most of us hate our jobs. Even if we're making a pretty good living, the majority of us would rather be doing something else instead of working! Especially if we could get paid for doing whatever it is we're most passionate about and interested in right?

How would it feel to turn your hobby or interest into a full-time, sustainable income?

Well, you can!

(Please Note: I just wanted to let you know before we continue none of this involves any kind of investment, get rich quick systems or pyramid schemes. I just wanted to clear that up because that's often the first thing people think of when anyone mentions making money online).

Let me explain...

There are thousands of people all over the World making a living online from doing what they enjoy most and you're about to discover some of the ways they do it and how you can use your own unique knowledge, skills and experience to make a living online too!

Even if you have absolutely no idea what to do or how to get started or you feel like you might struggle because you don't have any computer skills or any money to invest...don't worry!

You don't need to have any experience or techy skills and the best part is... you can do it all for FREE!

Which means everything you earn is pure profit!

Unlike any normal job or business you don't need to invest in tools or equipment to get set up, the fact you're reading this means you already have a computer and internet connection and that's pretty much all you need!

You don't need to commute to and from work because you can work on your computer anytime and from anywhere, whether it's at home or abroad.

Also, the problem with any normal job or offline business is that we get paid for our time and we only have so many hours in a day!

But, when you have multiple streams of passive income online (which I'll cover shortly) it means even when you're not working, you'll still be earning money because people all over the World are buying stuff online day and night.

This is why you may have heard the saying "making money while you sleep" or "making money on auto-pilot". Now I know these sound ridiculous if you've never experienced this but what this refers to is making a passive income.

The simple reason it's possible is because as I just mentioned, people are buying online all over the World. So, when it's 2am where you are and you're fast asleep, elsewhere it's mid-day and people are browsing the internet looking for products or services to buy, books to read or online courses to take etc.

And when you sell or promote anything online, this is when you'll experience waking in the morning to check your phone or laptop and discover you've just made money whilst you were asleep!

It's a fantastic feeling believe me!

And there's no limit to how much you do or how much you earn. You're in control, no one else!

For example:

Let's say, just ONE thing you do earns $200 a week of passive income. (This is low, some of what you'll learn to do can earn $100's per day!)

Well, if you did the same thing again then that would also earn around the same, so now you have 2 passive income streams adding up to $400 a week. So that's $1,600 a month and for a lot of people this would help pay the bills, the mortgage, finance on a new car or go towards a nice holiday.

And by simply doing more of the same, this can very quickly add up to $1,000's or even $10,000's per month and this is when you become financially free.

Remember this is Passive Income too which means you'll have more free time with your family and friends or just spending time doing what you enjoy most instead of getting paid for your time like in a normal job.

Are you starting to get excited? Good! Then, let's begin.

WHAT CAN I DO?

Right about now, you are probably wondering what you could do that people would be interested in paying you for. But the fact is, just about anything you are passionate about or good at could be used to create helpful, informative or entertaining content that people will pay you for.

You need to realise something. You DO NOT need to be an expert!

To anyone who wants to learn something that you already have a lot of knowledge and experience in, then you possess what they need and they will happily pay you for that help, guidance or advice.

If you have the skills to do whatever it is, that someone else needs or they simply don't have the time to do themselves such as writing articles, proof reading, drawing illustrations, creating a website, editing videos etc. Then you will find plenty of people willing to pay you to do it for them. You don't even need to do the work yourself and you can still get paid!

But I'll save that for another day ;)

Do you like playing video games? Other gamers could watch videos of you playing games where you give them tips and walk-through strategies on various gameplay, review new releases, or even join you on live multi-player games.

Or, perhaps you really enjoy cooking. You could film yourself working on interesting, healthy or low carb dishes and share those recipes with others.

Or you might be good and drawing, sketching, crafts, or painting. You could sell your artwork, as well as create things like tutorials and resources that you personally use to create your art.

Or perhaps your a musician? You could create tutorial videos or provide notes that will help others learn how to get started or play along to their favourite tracks.

Are you into fitness, sports or bodybuilding? You can help others by providing them with valuable advice on diet, nutrition or exercise.

Do you have a trade or experience in a certain profession? You could provide insider information or advice on how someone could successfully complete the recruitment process or teach them the skills they need to know to do well.

Maybe you have some sort of obscure (as in not hugely mainstream) hobby that you don't see many people teaching others about? If so, that just makes it even more likely that people would want to learn from you because they might have a hard time finding that type of content elsewhere!

It might be something like:

- Model building (cars, ships, planes, etc.)
- Crafting (woodworking, knitting, crochet, sewing, etc.)
- Gardening
- Outdoor activities (hiking, camping, fishing, cycling, boating, etc.)
- Art (drawing, painting, digital art, 3D, sketching, etc.)
- Entertaining (acting, comedy, making music, singing, etc.)

Basically, anything where you can teach people something or entertain people will work well! Chances are, you already do something you enjoy that will work just fine. All you have to do is translate that hobby or interest into a medium that works well online, such as writing about it or creating videos!

And then most importantly...TAKE ACTION!

Now, I don't want to fill these pages with detailed information on exactly how to do all of the different things you can choose from as some of them may not interest you.

For example if you like writing then you won't want to know all about creating videos or if you want to get paid for providing your services then you won't need to know how to create your own online courses etc.

I just want to provide you with options that are most suited to you and that you would most enjoy doing, so you can decide which of those you like the sound of and then I'll give you more information on them. That way you're just getting the information that you need and not wasting time on stuff you don't need.

Sound good?

Ok, take a look through the following options and once you find one (or more) that you like the sound of just click on the link to learn more...

Become an Author - Write and Publish Books

Would you like to become a published author and learn how to write, design and publish your own books on site's like Amazon?

This is completely free to do! If you can type words on a Word Document you can do this! (tip: you don't even need to be able to type, I use speech recognition to save time as I still use the one finger typing method!)

You can generate a lot of money from selling books on Amazon from both Kindle and/or Paperback books.

Being a published author has many benefits aside from financially, one of which is having your own book will help you stand out and be seen as an authority in your niche.

It's very possible to write and publish a book within 30 days or less and as I mentioned it costs nothing to do. Click Here to Write a Book in 30 Days!

Become a YouTuber - Create and Monetize Videos on YouTube

Creating videos and building a tribe on YouTube is one of the fastest growing and most popular ways to make an income online (if done properly).

You can connect with people and build a huge list of subscribers who love watching your videos. Videos are also the best way to create that all important know, like and trust factor that's so important when building your brand and reputation and this can lead to your followers sharing or recommending your videos to others.

Creating videos and growing a YouTube channel that generates you a passive income is also free! You don't need any fancy or expensive equipment, you can even use the camera on a smartphone or your webcam and you don't even need to appear on camera!

There are YouTube channels that don't show the persons face in any of their videos, they might just show their hands or they just record their computer screen and yet their channels have millions of subscribers and some of them make millions of dollars too! Checkout this YouTube channel for example, she currently has over 10 million subscribers and she's never on camera!

Become a Freelancer - Sell Your Services Online

One of the quickest and easiest ways to use your own skills or knowledge to make a very good income online is to sell your services online to people who need them and you can do this for free too!

There are people in need of online services all the time so you'll never struggle to find work. When they need work doing then they go to Freelancer websites such as:

Fiverr

People Per Hour (I have something special for you here)

Freelancer (and here too)

Would you like to start using your own creative skills and do what you enjoy doing, for other people who desperately need your services and are eager to pay you? Then Click Here to Create Content and Sell Your Services Online...

Create Online Courses

Creating an online course is actually a lot easier than you think and yet it's one of the most lucrative things you can do online! When you create your own courses you can sit back and let other people promote them for you so they earn commissions. Even if you give 50% commissions on each sale, you can have hundreds or even thousands of people promoting your courses online and making sales all over the World so you just sit back and watch the money roll in!

You can create online courses for free too! You don't have to be an expert in your niche, depending on your experience you could create a course designed for beginners or you could create courses for the more advanced.

You don't even need to be the one who knows about the subject you'd like to create a course on. Once you know how to create online courses you can even partner up and help other people create courses too! I personally had no experience of providing voiceovers but after working with a friend we partnered up and created several voice training courses here:

<http://voiceovermasterclass.com>

You can create courses by simple providing information, advice or step-by-step video tutorials from recording your computer screen, creating a Powerpoint Presentation or even just recording yourself talking on a web cam or smartphone. I've even seen live events such as seminars or classroom lectures that have been recorded on video and turned into video lessons in a course.

Online courses have absolutely exploded in popularity in recent years because anyone can learn just about anything they like online and from anywhere! So, they don't need to travel or pay to for one-on-one tuition or classes. They can learn in their own time with no distractions and if they need to go over any information again they can do so, as many times as they like until they understand it clearly. They can refer back to it anytime if they forget anything or they need to practice.

There are so many benefits to learning online which is why the online learning market has exceeded 100 Billion Dollars!

If you like the idea of creating your own online courses and building a huge list of students who enjoy learning from you and continue to buy more and more of your courses then Click Here to Start Creating Online Courses That Sell!

CONCLUSION

You may be thinking that there's too much competition out there and why would someone buy something that you have to offer?

Firstly, competition is a GOOD thing! If there's a lot of other books, videos, courses or people selling services that you would also like to offer, it means that they are selling well!

And secondly you need to remember we are all different, we all have our own unique ways of doing things. Have you ever listened to someone teach or explain something, which you've found boring or not very easy to comprehend and yet when someone has talked about the same thing you loved the way they explained it or they made it so much easier or fun to listen to and understand?

The way you write and the words you use to connect with your readers, the way you draw and the materials you use to create your art, the way you talk and the various types of videos you create or the way you play music and how you perform are all different to anyone else.

What YOU create may just be exactly what so many people are looking for and look forward to reading, watching or listening to. You'll be surprised at how many people all over the World will begin to follow you online and encourage you to do more. The positive feedback they give you is so rewarding because you know that you're helping others and making a difference in their lives.

And if you've never experienced making money online before you'll soon discover just how great it feels! You literally have no limits to how much you can do and how much you can earn and unlike any normal job that eventually leads to retirement, you can continue to share what you've learned throughout your life even in your later years, to help others and leave behind a legacy.

I hope that you've enjoyed reading this and that it's helped to even spark a few ideas or made you stop and think about things slightly differently. Whenever you're ready, take the next step towards creating a living online doing what you enjoy...
